Happiness is 4-H

By FRANK H. SWEET
Extension Agent

The County 4-H Share-the-Fun Show will be held on Thursday, Dec. 15, at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of Appomattox County High School. The public is invited to attend this fun-filled variety show that will feature more than 25 acts ranging from vocal to instrumental to dance and drama. Special awards will be made following the show to the top acts in the various categories and age groups. Awards for 4-H Share-the-Fun are provided by American Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Five Appomattox 4-H'ers took part in the State Make-It-with Wool Contest at Natural Bridge last weekend. Jennifer Coleman, Cheryl Wooten, Ann Nolen, Beth Carter and Sheri Williams made wool garments and modeled in the state program. Awards for the Make-It-With-Wool program are sponsored by the Virginia Sheep Federation.

Jennifer Starner and Tammie Starner, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Starner, have entered beef steers in the Central Virginia Livestock Show to be held at the Lynchburg Livestock Market on May 5, 1984. The girls will be feeding and training the calves over the next several months as they prepare for the spring show. 4-H and FFA members have the opportunity to show beef heifers and market lambs, as well as beef steers. Complete details and show rules are available from the Vo-Ag instructors and the Extension Office.

4-H members will again have the opportunity to order strawberry plants through a special program. Order forms will be available to 4-H'ers and their families at the December meeting. Strawberry varieties offered will be Earliglow, Surecrop, Scott and Delite. Families interested in ordering plants but not involved in 4-H may contact the Appomattox Extension Office for order forms. Plants will be ordered in late January for delivery in early March.

4-H volunteer leaders are reminded that their personal expenses (including transportation) associated with 4-H programs and activities are deductible if they itemize their tax deductions. A good way to keep up with these out-of-pocket expenses on mileage is to write it on a calendar during the year.

The 4-H Horse and Pony Club will meet on Thursday evening, Dec. 8, at 7:30 p.m. Their program will be a slide tape discussion on "Buy A Horse - Not Trouble," and will include what faults to look for in a horse or pony.

All families interested in horses are invited to attend. This meeting will be held in the District Extension Office Meeting Room.

Contest winners noted

The Appomattox County Volunteer Services held a contest to help defray the cost of the food freezer and the Nutrition Program for Appomattox County.

At the drawing held on Friday, Dec. 2, at the Depot, the following were picked by Marvin Mitchell of Elliott Florist and Gifts: first prize of a 17 inch RCA color TV went to Melvin Winters; an AM/FM Stereo Cassette Recorder went to Mike Doss and a table model Sony radio went to Mike Doss of Farmville.

"We would like to thank everyone who helped make the raffle a success," commented Mrs. Ginny Pratrick, Appomattox County Volunteer Service Coordinator.

Emergency feed program set up

By TOM CONRAD

EMERGENCY FEED ASSISTANCE PROGRAM SIGNUP DECEMBER6 THROUGH DECEMBER 14 -The Dairy and Tobacco Adjustment Act of 1983 enacted into law on November 30, 1983 included provisions for an Emergency Feed Assistance Program (EFAP). The purpose of EFAP is to distribute CCC-owned low-grade corn to livestock producers who have been adversely affected by hot weather drought or other related disaster.

To be eligible for low grade corn, livestock producers must have a livestock operation in a county designated eligible for FmHA emergency loans. Appomattox County has been designated. They also must complete an application documenting amount of feed on hand and that insufficient feed is available on the farm to adequately maintain current foundation livestock herds and poultry flocks for a 90-day feeding period.

If producer is eligible then he or she would have the option of whether or not they would want to purchase corn. This corn would be either No. 4, No. 5 or sample grade. The purchase price will be 75% of the county loan rate from which the corn is purchased. Eligible corn is located in counties nationwide and eligible producers will have their choice of any county throughout the nation. They will however have to pay transportation cost for having the corn transported from the purchase location to its destination.

Available in the ASCS office is a list of the various counties in which corn is located as well as purchase price. It will be up to the producer to ascertain transportation costs.

Of great importance to farmers who may be interested in the program is the fact that the signup period only runs for seven (7) days - Dec. 6 through Dec. 14. It is imperative therefore that producers come to the ASCS office immediately.

Each year, beginning in September and continuing through November the stores, divided into three districts, conduct a layaway contest with no service charges. This year Angela was number one out of the approximately 60 employees of the ten stores in District 1. The Pope's Family Center Store in Triangle Plaza, Appomattox is managed by Rodney Marston. Bennett was presented with a poster noting that he sacrificed a hunting day to shop for the popular children's toys. (Photo by Bill Sherrod)

Concert of seasonal music planned for December 11

The Appomattox Community Chorus and the ACHS Chorale will present a concert of seasonal music Sunday, Dec. 11, at 3 p.m. at Memorial United Methodist Church. The Community Chorus, under the direction of Steve Lawrence, will perform works by J.S. Bach, Alfred Burt and John Ness Beck. Sue J. Wright, organist and Frank Coffey, flutist are accompanists for the chorus.

A Ceremony Of Carols by Benjamin Britten will be presented by the Chorale. This work, for chorus and harp, is comprised of 11 contemporary carols on olden words. Harpist Beth DeChent of Lynchburg will accompany the chorale.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

4-H Club news Mrs. Coleman's class

By ANGELA THORNTON

On Nov. 14, Mrs. Coleman's class met with Mr. Sweet.

Angie Thompson, president, called the meeting to order then we said the 4-H and American pledges. Reggie Turner and Jennifer Mayberry led us in playing the Thanksgiving Manu Game and Seven-Up.

Sabrina Kelly, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. We discussed old and new business then we played a game about your feelings.

The meeting was adjourned.
